

PAUL'S FIRST LETTER TO THE COMMUNITY IN CORINTH<sup>a</sup>

Greeting

1 From Paul, called to be an apostle<sup>b</sup> of Christ Jesus by the will of God—and from Sosthenes,<sup>c</sup> my Christian brother.<sup>d</sup>

↪To the community of God that's in Corinth. You've<sup>e</sup> been set apart for God<sup>f</sup> in Christ Jesus—you've been called to be holy ones, together with all people in every place who call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ—their Lord<sup>g</sup> and ours. ↪May grace and peace come to you, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ!

Paul Thanks God for the Good Things about the Corinthians

↪I'm thanking my God all the time about you, because of the grace that's been given to you in Christ Jesus. ↪You've been made rich in every way in him, with all kinds of speech and knowledge. ↪And<sup>h</sup> the testimony of Christ has been proven out with you—↪to the point that you're not short on any spiritual gift as you look forward to the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ. ↪He's the one who'll also strengthen you until you're completely without fault in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. ↪God is faithful! And it's through God that you've been called into the community of Jesus Christ, God's Son, our Lord.

<sup>a</sup> It is likely that the two canonical documents known to us as 1 & 2 Corinthians contain, between them, portions of at least three, and probably four, letters that Paul wrote to them. I'll point them out when they come up.

<sup>d</sup> Chances are that Sosthenes is helping Paul write the letter by taking dictation. Notice that at the end Paul says, "This greeting is in my own handwriting; Paul" (16:21). Dictation was common practice in the ancient world, and perhaps the more necessary in Paul's case because he may have had eye problems (see Eph. 6:11 and Gal. 4:13-16).

<sup>e</sup> Throughout this letter Paul is addressing the whole community, so "you" is always to be taken as plural.

<sup>f</sup> "Set apart for God"; or "made holy," "consecrated," "sanctified." This word is a live metaphor from Temple worship, not an abstract concept: they've been specially dedicated to God's service in Christ.

A Challenge to Agree Together and Stop Competing

<sup>10</sup>Now, I want to ask you, brothers and sisters, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, for you all to agree together. And please don't let there be divisions between you. Instead, be in harmony<sup>a</sup> together, with the same mind and sense of purpose.

<sup>11</sup>Because, my brothers and sisters, it's been made clear to me, in hearing about you from Chloe's people, that there are petty fights going on between you. <sup>12</sup>And here's what I mean: each of you is saying, either, "I'm with Paul!" or "I'm with Apollos!"<sup>b</sup> or "I'm with Cephas!"<sup>c</sup> or "I'm with Christ!" <sup>13</sup>Has Christ gotten divided up? Since when was Paul crucified for you? And since when were you baptized in Paul's name? <sup>14</sup>I'm thankful I didn't baptize any of you except for Crispus and Gaius!<sup>d</sup> <sup>15</sup>That way, nobody can say they were baptized in my name! <sup>16</sup>Well, I did baptize Stephanas's<sup>e</sup> family. Other than that, I don't know if I baptized anybody else.

I'm going to destroy the wisdom of the wise,
And I'm going to disqualify the cleverness of the clever.<sup>j</sup>

<sup>20</sup>So where does that leave the wise person, the lawyer, the great debater of this world? Hasn't God shown<sup>k</sup> that the wisdom of this world is foolishness? <sup>21</sup>After all, in line with God's wisdom, the world hasn't known God through wisdom. So God's preference is to save people who believe through the foolishness of the message that's preached. <sup>22</sup>Because Jews ask for signs, and Greeks<sup>l</sup> are after wisdom. <sup>23</sup>But we're preaching Christ hanging on a cross. For Jews that's offensive, and for Gentiles it's foolishness. <sup>24</sup>But to those of us who are called, both Jews and non-

<sup>d</sup> Prn. gay-us.

<sup>l</sup> "Greeks" is a standard way of referring to non-Jews in general, not Greeks in particular. However, Corinth is a city in Greece, and the Greeks were famous for their love of wisdom.

Jews, Christ is God's power and God's wisdom. <sup>25</sup>Because God's foolishness is wiser than all of humanity, and God's weakness is stronger than all of humanity.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>26</sup>After all, brothers and sisters, look at God's calling of you. Because in terms of outward appearances,<sup>b</sup> not many of you were highly educated;<sup>c</sup> not many were powerful, not many were from the upper classes. Just the opposite! <sup>27</sup>God has especially chosen<sup>d</sup> the uneducated<sup>e</sup> of this world, to completely shame the highly educated. And God has especially chosen the weak people of this world, to completely shame the powerful. <sup>28</sup>And God has especially chosen the people with no family name, the "nobodies" of this world, the "nothings," to abolish the "somethings."<sup>f</sup> <sup>29</sup>That way, no human being<sup>g</sup> can brag in front of God. <sup>30</sup>And it's down to God that you're all in Christ Jesus. He's the one who has become wisdom from God for us, justice from God for us, dedication to God for us,<sup>h</sup> and purchase out of captivity for us.<sup>i</sup> <sup>31</sup>That way, just like the scripture says,<sup>j</sup>

Whoever brags should brag about the Lord.<sup>k</sup>

The Good News That Paul Preaches

2 And remember when I came to you, brothers and sisters. I didn't come and proclaim the secret of God to you using fancy words or wisdom. <sup>2</sup>Because I'd decided: with you, I wasn't going to know anything except for Jesus Christ, and him hanging on a cross. <sup>3</sup>And as for me, it was in weakness and fear, and a whole lot of trembling, that I came to stay with you.<sup>1</sup> <sup>4</sup>And as for my message and my preaching, those things weren't wrapped in wise, persuasive words. No, they were backed up by the Spirit and by power,<sup>m</sup> so that your faith wouldn't be based on human wisdom, but on the power of God.<sup>n</sup>

Now, we do express wisdom when we're around mature people. But it's not this world's wisdom—and it's not from this world's rulers<sup>o</sup> either—they're being

<sup>c</sup> Lit. "wise people," naturally connoting elite education. Today we might say, "Not many of you have doctorates."

<sup>e</sup> Lit. "the foolish things," or "the stupid." But he means in the world's eyes—not that they are actually stupid.

<sup>f</sup> Lit. "God has especially chosen the low born and the despised—the things that don't exist—to do away with the things that exist."

<sup>o</sup> When he refers to "rulers," Paul could well have in mind not human beings, but powerful angelic beings, which he pictures as working behind the scenes to manipulate humanity's worldview. See e.g. Rom. 8:38; 1 Cor. 2:8; Gal. 4:3, 8-9; Eph. 1:21; 2:2; 3:10; 6:12; Col. 1:6; 2:8, 10, 15, 20.

abolished.<sup>a</sup> 7No, we're talking about God's secret, hidden wisdom. It's the wisdom that God had already decided on before all the ages,<sup>b</sup> for our glory. 8It's the wisdom that none of this world's rulers knew about. After all, if they had known it, they wouldn't have hung the Lord of Glory<sup>c</sup> on a cross. 9But as scripture says,<sup>d</sup>

Things that no eye has ever seen,
And no ear has ever heard,
And that never came up in any human heart,
God has prepared for those that love him.<sup>e</sup>

10And God has uncovered them for us through the Spirit! Because the Spirit searches out everything, even the deepest things of God. 11After all, who knows the real things about a person, except for the person's spirit, that's inside them? In the same way, nobody knows the real things about God except the Spirit of God. 12And we haven't received the spirit of the world. No, we've received the Spirit who is from God, so that we'll understand the things that have been given to us so freely by God.

13And we don't speak about these things in concepts acquired through human wisdom. No, they're acquired through the Spirit,<sup>f</sup> as we put together spiritual things for spiritual people. 14Now, people operating on the natural principle<sup>g</sup> don't accept the things of God's Spirit, because they're foolishness to them. And it's impossible for them to recognize them, because they have to be<sup>h</sup> spiritually understood.<sup>i</sup> 15And although spiritual people understand everything,<sup>j</sup> they themselves aren't understood by anyone.<sup>k</sup>

16After all, who knows the Lord's mind?
Who is going to teach him?<sup>l</sup>

Yet we have the mind of Christ!

<sup>a</sup> Lit. "who are getting disemployed," or, "who are being nullified by God."

<sup>f</sup> Lit. "And the things we say are not in learned words of [i.e. stemming from] human wisdom, but in things learned of [i.e. stemming from] the Spirit." But he's not talking about the literal words themselves, but about the content.

<sup>g</sup> Lit. "But a soulish person," He means the person operating on the typical human life principle without the inspiration of the Spirit. I've pluralized this sentence and the following ones in order to make them gender-inclusive.

<sup>i</sup> For this and the next two instances of the verb "understand," the underlying verb means "understand deeply," or "search out," or "discern."

Stop Competing and Bragging about Which Leader You Follow!

3 Now as for me, brothers and sisters, I didn't used to be able to talk to you as spiritual people. No, I had to treat you as people operating on the flesh principle,<sup>a</sup> as babies in Christ. <sup>1</sup>I gave you milk to drink, not solid food, because you couldn't handle it yet. In fact, you still can't handle it now, <sup>2</sup>because you're still fleshy. After all, when there's jealousy and petty fighting among you, aren't you being fleshy? And aren't you living in line with the typical habits of humanity? <sup>3</sup>Because when someone says, "I'm with Paul," and another person says, "I'm with Apollos," aren't you just acting like typical human beings? <sup>4</sup>So what is Apollos? And what is Paul? We're servants, through whom you came to faith, as the Lord gave grace to each of us. <sup>5</sup>I planted, Apollos watered, but it was God who made it grow. <sup>6</sup>So it's neither the person who plants nor the person who waters who is anything, but it's God who makes things grow. <sup>7</sup>Now, the person who plants and the person who waters are one team. And each person will get their own wages, in line with their own labor. <sup>8</sup>Because we're co-workers with God! You're God's field, God's house.

<sup>9</sup>By the grace of God that was given to me, I laid a foundation, like a wise master builder. And someone else builds on it. And each person is going to have to pay attention to how they build! <sup>10</sup>Because the other person can't lay down another foundation besides the one that's already been laid, which is Jesus Christ. <sup>11</sup>But whether someone builds on that foundation with gold, or silver, or precious stones, or wood, or hay, or straw, <sup>12</sup>each person's work is going to become visible. Because the Day of Judgment is going to make it obvious: it's going to be revealed by fire. And the fire itself is going to test the quality of each person's work. <sup>13</sup>If someone's work, which they built, lasts, they'll get paid. <sup>14</sup>If someone's work burns down, they'll lose everything. But they themselves will be saved—but it will be as though through fire. <sup>15</sup>Don't you know that you're God's temple, and that the Spirit of God lives in you? <sup>16</sup>If someone tears down God's temple, God's going to tear them down. Because God's temple is holy, and that's just what you are.

God's the one who traps the wise in their own craftiness.<sup>d</sup>

<sup>a</sup> "As people operating on the flesh principle": lit. "as fleshy people." Paul explains this idea more fully in Rom. 8:3-17.

<sup>b</sup> Lit. "become foolish so that they will become wise."

The Lord knows the thoughts of the wise—that they’re useless.<sup>a</sup>

21 So no one should be bragging about human things.<sup>b</sup> Because everything is yours.
22 Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas,<sup>c</sup> or the world, or life, or death, or things here now, or things that haven’t happened yet, they’re all yours! 23 And you’re Christ’s, and Christ is God’s.

4 People<sup>d</sup> should consider us as servants of Christ, as caretakers<sup>e</sup> of God’s secrets. 2 To take the idea further, a sought-after quality in caretakers is that they<sup>f</sup> should be found faithful. 3 Now, to me it’s a small thing to be judged<sup>g</sup> by you, or by any human court.<sup>h</sup> Far from it—I don’t even judge myself. 4 After all, I’m not conscious of anything against myself, but that certainly doesn’t mean I’m innocent.<sup>i</sup> No, the one who judges me is the Lord. 5 So you shouldn’t be pre-judging things—wait until the Lord comes. Then he’ll shine a light on the things hidden in the dark. He’s also going to reveal the motivations of people’s hearts. And then the praise each person gets will be from God.

6 Now, brothers and sisters, I’ve applied these things to myself and Apollos for your sake. The point is for you to learn the principle: “Don’t go beyond the scriptures,”<sup>j</sup> in relation to us. That way you won’t be all puffed up in favor of one person and against another.

A Warning against Arrogance and Pride<sup>k</sup>

7 [[After all, who say’s you’re different? What do you have that you didn’t receive? And if you received it, why do you brag as though you didn’t receive it? 8 You’ve

<sup>b</sup> “About human things”: or, “to people.” I prefer the former because I think Paul is still talking about bragging that Paul or Apollos is one’s spiritual mentor.

<sup>c</sup> Prn. see us. Paul is referring to the senior apostle Peter, whose English name comes from the Greek nickname Petros, “Rock.” Cephas comes from Peter’s Aramaic nickname Keyfa, which also means “rock.”

<sup>e</sup> Or “stewards.” The analogy is to a person who manages a wealthy person’s household.

<sup>j</sup> Most versions: “not to go beyond what is written.” But what is written (in the scriptures), according to Paul, is that God is the only judge, who will bring everything about people to light in the day of judgment. Consequently, going around before then claiming that so-and-so is better than so-and-so “goes beyond the scriptures.”

<sup>k</sup> At this point there is a sudden change of tone, from quiet reasoning to almost hysterical upset. Paul refers in 2 Cor. 2:4-16 to a “painful letter” that he wrote to them, and he talks about having written it when he was almost out of his mind with the very pressures referred to in this section of 1 Corinthians (see 2 Cor. 2:5; 7:5). For that reason, I suspect that pages from the “painful letter” may have been inserted right here into 1 Corinthians. The theme of people being “puffed up” (see 1 Cor. 4:6, above) makes the opportunity for the transition. 1 Corinthians doesn’t usually convey the same sense of deeply hurt feelings and desperate exasperation that we see in this section (with one exception: see the first section of Chapter 9, and the nt. on 9:1). Where the section from the painful letter ends is not as easy to decide as where it begins, but the double square brackets indicate my best guess. Notice that in this section, Paul appears to be sending the letter by the hand of Timothy, but in 1 Cor. 16:10-11, Paul seems to be saying that he thinks Timothy is on his way to Paul, and that Timothy may or may not go to Corinth on the way.

already gotten full; you've already gotten wealthy. You've started reigning like royalty without us. And it'd be better if you really did reign, so that we could have reigned with you too. <sup>9</sup>You know,<sup>a</sup> I think God has displayed us apostles last of all, like people just sentenced to death. Because we've become a spectacle in front of the world, and in front of angels, and in front of humanity. <sup>10</sup>We're fools because of Christ, but you're wise in Christ. We're weak, but you're strong. You're highly regarded, but we're worthless. <sup>11</sup>Right up to this very moment we're both hungry and thirsty; we go naked, we get beat up, we're forced to keep moving. <sup>12</sup>And we sweat,<sup>b</sup> working with our own hands. When people throw insults at us, we bless. When we're persecuted, we put up with it. <sup>13</sup>When people say nasty things about us,<sup>c</sup> we answer back gently. It's as though we've become the trash of the world, everybody's dirt to be scraped off,<sup>d</sup> right to this moment.

<sup>14</sup>I'm not writing these things to shame you. Far from it. I'm counseling you, as my children that I love. <sup>15</sup>After all, you may have had ten thousand tutors in Christ, but not a lot of fathers! And<sup>e</sup> in Christ, through the good news, I became your father. <sup>16</sup>So I am pleading with you, learn to imitate me.<sup>f</sup> <sup>17</sup>To help you with this, I've sent Timothy to you. He's my child, whom I love, and who is faithful in the Lord. He'll remind you of the way<sup>g</sup> that I live in Christ Jesus—just like I teach everywhere, in every Christian community. <sup>18</sup>Certain people are getting puffed up, as though I weren't coming to visit you. <sup>19</sup>I'll be coming to you shortly, if the Lord wills, and then I'll know not just the words of the people who've gotten puffed up, but their power. <sup>20</sup>After all, the Reign of God isn't about words, but about power. <sup>21</sup>What do you want? Do you want me to come to you with a switch?<sup>h</sup> Or do you want me to come with a loving and gentle spirit?]]

A Case of Sexual Immorality

5 To put it bluntly,<sup>i</sup> it's going around<sup>j</sup> that there is sexual immorality going on among you. And it's a kind of sexual immorality that isn't even practiced by the Gentiles—to the point that someone is having sex with his father's wife. <sup>2</sup>And you're puffed up about it! And shouldn't you have been appalled instead, so appalled that the person who did it would be removed from the community?<sup>k</sup>

<sup>f</sup> Lit. "become imitators of me." He could have simply said, "imitate me," but he is seeing it as a learning process, rather than something instantly achievable.

<sup>i</sup> Or "on the whole," "in brief," "actually." It's an unpleasant topic, and Paul just has to blurt it out.

<sup>k</sup> Lit. "...appalled, to the point of removing the one who did this from the midst of you?"

Well, I may be away in terms of my body, but I'm with you in spirit. I've already decided about<sup>a</sup> the person who did such a thing, as though I were there with you. In the name of the<sup>b</sup> Lord Jesus, you should get together, with my spirit there with you. With the power of our Lord Jesus, hand over the person to Satan, for destruction of their body, so that their spirit might be saved on the Day of the Lord.<sup>c</sup> Your bragging isn't good. Don't you know that "a little yeast raises the whole batch of dough"?<sup>d</sup> Clean out the old yeast, so that you'll be a fresh batch. Because you're all supposed to be yeast-free. After all, Christ our Passover<sup>e</sup> lamb has been sacrificed, so let's celebrate the feast!<sup>f</sup> And not with old yeast—in other words,<sup>g</sup> not with the yeast of nastiness and sexual immorality. No, let's celebrate it with the yeast-free breads of sincerity and truth.

I wrote in my letter to you not to get mixed up with sexually immoral people.<sup>h</sup> I was not saying you should totally avoid the sexually immoral people of this world, or the greedy ones, or the thieves, or the idol worshipers. After all, in that case you would have to leave the world altogether. No, I wrote to you not to get mixed up with anyone calling themselves a brother or sister in Christ, if they were sexually immoral, or greedy, or an idol worshiper, or quick to curse people, or a drinker, or a thief. You shouldn't even have a meal with that sort of person. After all, what use is it for me to judge outsiders? Why don't you judge those inside the community,<sup>i</sup> and God will judge those on the outside. Kick the immoral person out of your community.<sup>j</sup>

Lawsuits Between Members of the Community

6 If one of you has a dispute with somebody else, do they try to go to trial with the unjust,<sup>k</sup> and not take it to the holy ones? Or didn't you know that the holy ones are going to judge the world? And if the world's going to be judged by you,

<sup>c</sup> "The Day of the Lord" refers to the great day of divine judgment that Jews and Christians believed would bring this age to a close.

<sup>d</sup> A proverb, which Paul also quotes in Gal. 5:9. The idea is that one person's actions may turn out to infect everyone. When a teaspoon of yeast is kneaded (mixed) into bread dough, it quickly multiplies. Compare: "one bad apple spoils the whole barrel."

<sup>f</sup> He's talking metaphorically about the Jewish Feast of Unleavened (i.e. yeast-free) Bread, which celebrates God's saving the Israelites from Egypt. It's also the holiday during which Jesus was hung on a cross. In Christ's death, Paul sees a new saving moment—this one not just for the Jews, but for the whole world.

<sup>h</sup> I said earlier that we might actually have portions of as many as four of Paul's Corinthian letters (see the first nt. on 1 Corinthians). Paul refers here to one of them, which he wrote before "First" Corinthians. I believe that you can see in 2 Cor. 6:14-7:1 at least part of the letter Paul is referring to. Notice how it jumps out of the context, as though a page from that letter was tucked into the pages of the main "2 Corinthians" letter.

<sup>i</sup> Lit. "inside yourselves." Just like in English, this has the form of a question, but it's a command.

are you really unworthy of trying even the smallest cases?<sup>a</sup> 3 Don't you know that we're going to judge angels—let alone everyday disputes? 4 So if you have everyday disputes, are you going to give the job of deciding them to people who aren't even anything in the community? 5 I say this to your shame. So, isn't there one single person in the community who is wise enough to be capable of adjudicating between fellow members?<sup>b</sup> 6 Instead, one member goes to court against another—and in front of unbelievers, at that! 7 Frankly, it's already a failure for you that you have lawsuits with one another at all. Why wouldn't you sooner let yourselves be treated unjustly? Why wouldn't you sooner let yourselves be cheated? 8 But no, you treat people unjustly, you cheat people, and you do it to your brothers and sisters, at that! 9 Or didn't you know that unjust people won't inherit the Reign of God? Don't be fooled.<sup>c</sup> Neither sexually immoral people, nor idolaters,<sup>d</sup> nor people who cheat on their spouses, nor men who play the woman, nor men who have sex with boys, 10 nor thieves, nor people obsessed with getting more possessions,<sup>e</sup> nor drinkers, nor people who verbally abuse others,<sup>f</sup> nor people who rob others<sup>g</sup>—none of these are going to inherit the Reign of God. 11 And some of you were these things. But you've been cleansed. You've been set apart as holy. You've been found innocent by the power of the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and by the power of the Spirit of our God.

Use Your Body for God's Glory—Not for Sexual Immorality

12 “Everything's allowed for me”<sup>h</sup>—but everything's certainly not worth it. “Everything's allowed for me”—but I'm not going to be controlled by anything. 13 “Food is for the digestive tract, and the digestive tract is for food”<sup>i</sup>—and yet God is going to do away with both. Your body is not for sexual immorality, but for the Lord, and the Lord is for your body. 14 And God not only raised the Lord—God will raise us up from among the dead by his power. 15 Don't you know that your bodies are Christ's body parts? So am I going to make Christ's body parts parts of a prostitute? Absolutely not!<sup>j</sup> 16 Or maybe you didn't know that a person who comes together with a prostitute is being one body with her? After all, it says, “The two will be one flesh.”<sup>k</sup> 17 And the person that comes together with the Lord is being

<sup>d</sup> I.e. people who worship idols. This can be taken both literally and figuratively (see, e.g., Eph. 5:5).

<sup>g</sup> Lit. “looters,” or “robbers.” I think he is talking about predatory dealings around money in general, not just about professional strong-arm robbers or thieves.

<sup>h</sup> This and the following quotations, I believe, are slogans of people in the Corinthian community who assert that they can do anything they please because of grace.

<sup>i</sup> This is probably a saying people used to justify having sex whenever and however they felt like it: “I get hungry; I eat. I feel the urge; I have sex. Each is as much a natural bodily function and bodily need as the other. What's the big deal?”

<sup>j</sup> Lit. “May it not be!” which implies, may God not strike me for even mentioning the thought of it.

one spirit with him. <sup>18</sup>Run away from sexual immorality! All sorts of sins that a person might do are outside the body. But people who are sexually immoral sin against<sup>a</sup> their own bodies.<sup>b</sup>

<sup>19</sup>Or maybe you didn't know that your bodies are the temple of the Holy Spirit who is in you—who was given to you<sup>c</sup> from God. And so you're not your own. <sup>20</sup>You've been bought at a high price. So glorify God with your bodies.

Marriage, Divorce, and the Benefits of Staying Single

7 Now, as for the things you wrote to me about: yes, it is a good thing for a man to abstain from sexual contact with women.<sup>d</sup> <sup>2</sup>But because of issues of sexual immorality,<sup>e</sup> each man should have his own wife, and each woman should have her own husband. <sup>3</sup>Husbands should give their wives the sexual attention they deserve,<sup>f</sup> and wives should do the same for their husbands. <sup>4</sup>The wife doesn't have authority over her own body, but her husband does; in the same way, the husband doesn't have authority over his own body, but his wife does. <sup>5</sup>Don't deny each other—unless you're doing it by agreement for a certain amount of time, so that you can devote yourselves to prayer.<sup>g</sup> <sup>6</sup>But then come back together again. That way, Satan won't tempt you by playing on your lack of self-control. <sup>7</sup>I'm saying this out of friendship,<sup>h</sup> not as a command. <sup>8</sup>I'd still like for everyone to be like I am. However, each person has their own gift from God, whether it be the one way of living or the other.

<sup>9</sup>But I want to say to those of you who are unmarried, and to the widows: it is a good thing for them to stay single like I am. <sup>10</sup>But if they don't have the will-power for it, they should get married. After all, it's better to get married than to be hot and bothered.<sup>i</sup>

<sup>11</sup>And I pass on this command to the married people (it's actually not me, but the Lord Jesus, who says this): a woman shouldn't break up with her husband. <sup>12</sup>And if she does break up with him, she should either stay unmarried, or reconcile with her husband. And a man shouldn't divorce his wife.<sup>j</sup>

<sup>13</sup>Now, to everyone else, I want to say (this is me, not the Lord): if a brother<sup>k</sup> has a wife who doesn't believe, and she agrees to live with him, he shouldn't divorce

<sup>d</sup> Lit. "not to touch a woman." He's not saying never to hug anyone—it's about sexual abstinence.

<sup>h</sup> Or "out of regard for your feelings," or "as a concession."

<sup>i</sup> Lit. "to be burning." The meaning is obvious.

her. <sup>13</sup>And if one of the women has a husband who doesn't believe, and he agrees to live with her, she shouldn't divorce her husband. <sup>14</sup>After all, the unbelieving husband is made holy by his wife, and the unbelieving wife is made holy by her Christian husband.<sup>a</sup> If that weren't true, your children would be unclean—but as it is, they're holy. <sup>15</sup>Now,<sup>b</sup> if the one who doesn't believe breaks up with their believing spouse, then let them break up. The brother or sister isn't bound in those sorts of cases. But God has called you to peace. <sup>16</sup>After all—wives, how do you know that you won't save your husbands? And husbands, how do you know that you won't save your wives?<sup>c</sup>

<sup>17</sup>Unless the Lord has provided something different for a person, each person should keep living as they were when God called them. And that's the instruction I give in all the communities. <sup>18</sup>Were you circumcised<sup>d</sup> when you were called? Don't try to cover it up. Were you uncircumcised when you were called? Don't get circumcised. <sup>19</sup>Circumcision isn't anything, and lack of circumcision isn't anything—keeping God's commands is what matters.<sup>e</sup> <sup>20</sup>Each person should stay in the condition that they were in when they were called. <sup>21</sup>Were you called as a slave? Don't let it get you down. However, if you can get free, definitely go for it! <sup>22</sup>After all, the slave who is called by the Lord is the Lord's<sup>f</sup> freed slave; in the same way, the person who is free when they're called is Christ's slave. <sup>23</sup>You've been bought with a price. Don't let yourselves be slaves of human beings. <sup>24</sup>Whatever condition you were called in, brothers and sisters, stay that way, with God.<sup>g</sup>

<sup>25</sup>Now, as for people who are still virgins, I don't have any instructions from the Lord. But I will offer an opinion, as a person who is trustworthy by the Lord's mercy. <sup>26</sup>So, my sense is that virginity<sup>h</sup> is a good way to be. Because of the bad state things are in right now,<sup>i</sup> it's better for a person to stay the same. <sup>27</sup>Are you bound to a wife? Don't try to get released. Have you been released from your wife? Don't try to find a wife. <sup>28</sup>But even if you do marry, you're not sinning. And if a woman who is a virgin marries, she hasn't sinned. But people who get

<sup>f</sup> Notice that Paul usually means "the Lord Jesus" by "the Lord"; he doesn't just mean God.

<sup>g</sup> I think the implication is, stay with God, and trust God to change your situation when it's the right time, and don't spend energy scheming to change it yourself.

<sup>i</sup> Lit. "because of the current distress." He thinks that the world as a whole is in a bad place.

married<sup>a</sup> are going to have troubles in life,<sup>b</sup> and I'm trying to spare you that. <sup>29</sup>And I'll say this, brothers and sisters: the time is short! So from now on, people who have wives should be as though they didn't have them, <sup>30</sup>people who cry should be as though they weren't crying, people who celebrate should be as though they weren't celebrating, people who buy things should be as though they didn't own them, <sup>31</sup>and people who make use of this world should be as though they weren't spending it up.

Because the structure of this world is falling apart<sup>c</sup>—<sup>32</sup>and I want you to be free from worries. An unmarried man worries about the Lord's business: how to please the Lord. <sup>33</sup>But the married man worries about the world's business: how to please his wife. <sup>34</sup>And his attention<sup>d</sup> has gotten divided. And a woman who is unmarried, or a woman who is a virgin, worries about the Lord's business: how to be holy, in body and spirit. But the married woman worries about the world's business: how to please her husband. <sup>35</sup>Now, I'm saying this for your own benefit—and not at all to constrict you:<sup>e</sup> I'm just trying to provide for good order and undistracted devotion to the Lord.

<sup>36</sup>Now, suppose one of you feels that he's not treating his virgin girlfriend right.<sup>f</sup> If he's fully mature,<sup>g</sup> and it has to be that way, let him do what he wants. He's not sinning—let them get married. <sup>37</sup>Another person stands firm in his heart, doesn't feel any pressure, and has control over his own will power. And this person has decided in his own heart to keep his girlfriend a virgin. He's going to do fine. <sup>38</sup>So in other words, the person who marries his virgin girlfriend does fine, and the person who doesn't marry her does even better.

<sup>39</sup>A woman is bound by marriage as long as her husband is alive. But if her husband dies, she's free to marry anyone she wants to, as long as it's in the Lord.<sup>h</sup> <sup>40</sup>But in my opinion, she's more blessed if she stays as she is. And I also think that I have the Spirit of God.

Food Offered to Idols

8 You also asked me about things offered to idols. We know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffs people up, but love builds people up. <sup>1</sup>If

<sup>f</sup> This could be for a few reasons: e.g. there might be an unsustainable level of sexual tension in the relationship, or there might be some kind of family or social cost that she has to bear.

<sup>g</sup> I think Paul is talking about a young man being old enough in years and in personal maturity to marry. But he might well mean, "if he's too full of the juice of life," i.e. if he's having trouble controlling himself sexually.

somebody thinks they know something, they still don't know all<sup>a</sup> they need to know. 3But if someone loves God, they're known by God. 4So, we know this about food that's been offered to idols: an idol isn't anything real,<sup>b</sup> and there's no god except the One God. 5Now, there may be so-called "gods"—whether in heaven or on earth. And so in a sense there are lots of gods and lots of lords. 6But for us, the Father is the One God. Everything comes from him, and we exist for him. And we have one Lord, Jesus Christ. Everything exists through him, and we exist through him. 7However, not everybody knows that.<sup>c</sup> For example, some people are still under the influence of idol worship right now.<sup>d</sup> They eat things offered to idols, and their conscience, which is weak, gets polluted. 8But food doesn't get us approval with God. If we don't eat something, we don't get points taken away—and if we do eat, we don't get more points.<sup>e</sup> 9But just make sure that your confidence<sup>f</sup> in this doesn't become something for weak people to trip over. 10After all, suppose someone sees you sitting<sup>g</sup> down to eat in an idol temple. You know it's ok<sup>h</sup>—but if that person has a weak conscience, won't they be encouraged to eat things offered to idols? 11Now<sup>i</sup> the weak person is getting ruined by your knowledge—your brother or sister that Christ died for! 12And so when you sin against your brothers and sisters, and harm their consciences, you're sinning against Christ. 13The conclusion is, if that kind of food trips up my brother or sister, I will never, ever eat meat again, so that I will not make my brother or sister stumble.

Paul Defends His Apostleship and Explains His Choice to Support Himself Financially<sup>j</sup>

9 [[I'm a free person, right? I'm an apostle, right? Haven't I seen Jesus our Lord? Aren't you my work in the Lord? 2Maybe I don't count as<sup>k</sup> an apostle to other

<sup>d</sup> Lit. "are in the habit of idolatry up to now," or "are still in a relationship with idolatry up to now."

<sup>e</sup> In the Greco-Roman world in Paul's day, the average person probably regarded buying (and eating) food that had previously been placed in front of an idol (an image of a god) as a minor act of devotion to that god. It got you approval points, kind of like spiritual trading stamps. If a person were still tempted to appease the gods, they might find it hard to renounce the sense of security this practice had given them. To protect their conscience, such a person might well need to "go cold turkey": to make sure that nothing they ate had previously been offered to an idol.

<sup>f</sup> Lit. "authority." I think he's particularly referring to the authoritative nature that you project when you're around other people.

<sup>j</sup> Here's another probable page from the "painful letter." Notice how (1) the text closes up perfectly if you take out this section between the double square brackets, and (2) how "I am a free man" (9:1, 19) creates the entry point for the insertion. Paul's tone completely changes here, and you can practically hear him crying and in tears, if you imagine that this is part of the painful letter.

<sup>k</sup> "I don't count as": lit. "I'm not." He means that others deny his calling by Christ to be an apostle altogether, not that he wasn't a missionary (i.e. an apostle) to those others.

people, but surely I am one to you! After all, you're the proof<sup>a</sup> of my calling as an apostle<sup>b</sup> in the Lord.

3 This is my answer to the people who accuse me. 4 Don't we even have the right to eat and drink? 5 Don't we even have the right to keep company with a Christian wife—like the rest of the apostles, and the Lord's brothers, and Cephas<sup>c</sup> 6 Or is it just myself and Barnabas that don't have the right not to work for money? 7 Who ever served as a soldier at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard, but doesn't get to eat any of its fruit? Or who tends a flock of sheep and doesn't get to drink any of the flock's milk? 8 Am I saying these things on my own authority,<sup>d</sup> or does the Law say the same thing? 9 After all, it's written in the Law of Moses,

Don't put a muzzle on the threshing ox.<sup>e</sup>

Is God really worried about oxen here?<sup>f</sup> 10 Or is he really saying this on our behalf? After all, this was written for our sake:

The person who plows has to plow in hope, and the person who threshes has to thresh in hope, of receiving their share.<sup>g</sup>

11 If we've planted spiritual seeds in you, is it a big thing for us to harvest some material things with you? 12 If others have that right with you, wouldn't we have even more right? But we've never made use of that right—just the opposite! We've covered all our own living costs,<sup>h</sup> so that we wouldn't hinder the good news of Christ in any way.

13 Don't you know that people who do the sacrifices eat some of the food from the Temple? Don't those who serve at the altar get a portion of what's sacrificed?<sup>i</sup> 14 That's also how the Lord instructed people who were going out to spread the good news: they should receive support from their evangelism work.<sup>j</sup>

15 Yet I haven't made use of any of these privileges! And I'm not writing all this so that I'll get them. Because I'd rather die than for anybody to make this an empty boast. 16 After all, if I preach the good news, there's no boast for me in that. Because

<sup>c</sup> Pm. see-f-us. Paul is referring to the senior apostle Peter, whose English name comes from the Greek nickname Petros, "Rock." Cephas comes from Peter's Aramaic nickname Keyfa, which also means "rock."

<sup>e</sup> Deut. 25:4. The ox walks around and around on a pile of grain and breaks it up so that the inedible parts can be separated by winnowing. The ox is helping make the food—and it's cruel not to let it eat some while it works.

<sup>f</sup> Paul is asserting—somewhat justifiably—that the statement, in the original context, is metaphorical for fair treatment of working people (see Deut. 24:17–25:4). I seriously doubt that he intends to assert that God doesn't care at all about the welfare of animals other than human beings.

<sup>h</sup> Or "we've put up with everything," i.e. the hardships of working a job on top of the work of starting a community.

<sup>i</sup> Lit. "have a share in the altar." "The altar" is a figure of speech for the sacrifices routinely offered on it.

<sup>j</sup> Lit. "they should live from the good news" (see Mt. 10:10; Lk 10:7). "The Lord" clearly means Jesus.

there's a pressure that lies on me, and it would be horrible for me<sup>a</sup> if I didn't preach the good news! <sup>17</sup>I mean, maybe if I were doing this because I wanted to, I'd deserve<sup>b</sup> a reward. But if I don't have any choice, then it's simply the responsibility I've been given.<sup>c</sup> <sup>18</sup>So, what's my reward? It's that, as I preach the good news, I put it out there for free, and that I don't make any use of my right in the good news to receive support.]]

Free in Christ to Put Others First for the Sake of the Good News

<sup>19</sup>Because even though I'm free, I've become a slave to everyone—to win more people to Christ.

<sup>20</sup>I've lived like a Jew<sup>d</sup> for the sake of Jews, in order to win Jews. For the sake of people who are under the Law, I've lived as though I'm under the Law—not that I'm under the Law myself, but so that I'll win people who are under the Law. <sup>21</sup>For the sake of people who don't have the Law, I've lived as though I didn't have the Law—it's not that I don't have God's Law, but that I'm under Christ's law. But it's so that I'll win people who don't have the Law. <sup>22</sup>For the sake of people who are weak, I've become weak, so that I'll win people who are weak. I've become all these things to all these people, so that one way or another, I'll save some. <sup>23</sup>And I do everything for the sake of the good news, so that I'll get the benefit of it along with everyone else.<sup>e</sup>

<sup>24</sup>Don't you know that of all the people who run in the sports arena, only one wins<sup>f</sup> the prize? Run to win!<sup>g</sup> <sup>25</sup>And every athlete trains all out—they do it to get a perishable crown,<sup>h</sup> but we're going for a permanent one. <sup>26</sup>So I'm running this race, and I'm not making any secret of it. And I'm boxing, and not just shadow boxing, either!<sup>i</sup> <sup>27</sup>I toughen up<sup>j</sup> my body, and train it to serve me.<sup>k</sup> Otherwise, after preaching to others, I might end up failing the test myself.

Warning: Your Baptism is Not Fire Insurance

10 After all, I don't want you to miss<sup>l</sup> the fact that our ancestors were all under the cloud—and all of them had gone through the Red Sea.<sup>m</sup> <sup>2</sup>And so

<sup>d</sup> Lit. "I've become like a Jew," but he already is one, so that translation would be misleading.

<sup>e</sup> Lit. "so that I'll come to partake in it too."

<sup>g</sup> Lit. "Run to get it." But that suffers from an unwanted ambiguity in English.

<sup>h</sup> In the games, a traditional prize was the "laurel wreath," a crown made of leafy sprigs of the bay laurel tree.

<sup>j</sup> Lit. "I bruise my body." But he's still in the metaphor of the boxer in training, and is not talking about hating, despising, or abusing his body.

<sup>k</sup> Or "...and I make it my slave."

all of them got<sup>a</sup> baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea. <sup>3</sup>Also, all of them were eating the same spiritual food <sup>4</sup>and drinking the same spiritual drink.<sup>b</sup> Because they were drinking from the spiritual rock that followed them,<sup>c</sup> and that rock was Christ. <sup>5</sup>However, God wasn't happy with most of them, because their corpses ended up scattered in the desert.<sup>d</sup>

“And these things happened as examples for us—so we won't crave bad things, as they did.<sup>e</sup> For example, don't be idolaters,<sup>f</sup> like some of them. Just like the scripture says,<sup>g</sup>

The people sat down to eat and drink, and got up to play around.<sup>h</sup>

“And don't be sexually immoral, like some of them were—and twenty-three thousand of them fell down dead in one day.<sup>i</sup> “And let's not be testing Christ<sup>j</sup> out, like some of them did—and they were killed by the snakes.<sup>k</sup> “And don't grumble, the way some of them did, and got killed by the destroyer.<sup>l</sup>

“Now, these things happened to them as examples. And they got written down as a warning to us, because we're living at the end of the world.<sup>m</sup> “So, a person who thinks they're standing should be careful not to fall. “There hasn't been any temptation pulling at you that isn't standard human experience. And God is faithful. He won't let you be tempted beyond your strength.<sup>n</sup> No, along with the temptation, he will also provide the way out that you can bear.

You Can't be a Christian and Keep Serving Idols

“So, my dear friends—run away from idolatry. “I'm talking to you as people who are smart. Test what I'm about to say. “Think about the cup of blessing that we bless. Isn't that a way of participating in the blood of Christ? What about the bread that we break? Isn't that a way of participating in the body of Christ?

<sup>c</sup> Exod. 17:6; Num. 20:11; Ps. 78:15.

<sup>e</sup> Lit. “so we won't be cravers of bad things, just like those people also craved.”

<sup>f</sup> “For example, don't be idolaters”: lit. “Neither be idolaters.” The pattern will be, neither be this, nor that, nor the other. I've begun the “nor” clauses with “And don't.” They're all examples of “craving bad things.” On “idolaters,” see the nt. on 1 Cor. 6:9, above.

<sup>j</sup> Later mss have “the Lord” or “God.” But Paul has just mentioned (v. 4) that Christ was there with them.

<sup>l</sup> Or “avenging angel.” See Num. 14:2, 36; 16:41-49. The “grumbling” Paul refers to is not about voicing discomfort or unhappiness, but about ingratitude and cynical suspicion towards God and spiritual leaders.

<sup>m</sup> Lit. “to us upon whom the ends of the ages have come.” During this time in his life, Paul feels that “the end” is about to come very shortly.

<sup>17</sup>Because there's one loaf, all of us<sup>a</sup> are one body—because we all have a piece of the one loaf.

Supporting Others in Breaking from Idolatry

<sup>23</sup>“Everything's allowed,” but everything's certainly not worth it. “Everything's allowed,” but everything sure doesn't build people up. <sup>24</sup>No one should be looking for their own advantage—instead, they should be looking for the other person's. <sup>25</sup>Go ahead and eat<sup>d</sup> everything sold at the butcher's shop.<sup>e</sup> Don't try to find out where it's been before you buy it because of conscience. <sup>26</sup>After all,

The earth, and everything that fills it, belongs to the Lord.<sup>f</sup>

<sup>27</sup>Suppose a non-believing person invites you to dinner, and you want to go. Eat everything that's put in front of you. Don't try to figure out where it's been before you eat it because of conscience.

<sup>28</sup>But if someone says to you, “This is meat that's been offered to idols,” don't eat it—for the sake of the person who told you, and for the sake of conscience. <sup>29</sup>I'm not talking about your own conscience now, but about the other person's. After all, why should my freedom be judged<sup>g</sup> by somebody else's conscience? <sup>30</sup>If I'm taking part with thankfulness, why should somebody be insulting me<sup>h</sup> about what I give thanks for?

<sup>31</sup>So, whether you're eating, or drinking, or whatever you're doing, do everything for the glory of God. <sup>32</sup>Try not to<sup>i</sup> cause offense to Jews, to non-Jews,<sup>j</sup> or to the community of God. <sup>33</sup>That's just what I do too. I always<sup>k</sup> try to put everyone at

<sup>b</sup> Lit. “Israel according to the flesh.” Paul has probably told the Corinthians that they, in Christ, are members of “Israel according to the Spirit,” so he automatically goes on to specify.

<sup>d</sup> Lit. “Eat,” which is in the plural, as with all the commands to the end of the chapter. Paul is talking to the group as a whole. I use the translation “go ahead and eat,” because I do not think Paul is encourage those who have problems of conscience to ignore their consciences.

<sup>e</sup> Or “the market”; but he's talking about meats.

<sup>k</sup> I.e. in the sense of “in all circumstances,” more than “at all times.”

Instructions about Women's Participation in Worship?

11 I want to commend you for the way<sup>b</sup> you've been keeping all my teachings in mind. And you've held onto the traditions just as I handed them down to you.

3 Now, I want you to know that Christ is the head of every man, the husband is the head of the wife, and God is the head of Christ. 4 Every man who prays or prophesies with a head covering disgraces his head. 5 And every woman who prays or prophesies with her head uncovered disgraces her head. It's just the same as having her hair cut off, 6 since "If she uncovers herself, a woman should be shorn."<sup>c</sup> But if it is a disgrace for a woman to be shaved or shorn, then she should have her head covered. 7 A man doesn't have to cover up his head, because he's the image and glory of God. But a woman is the glory of her husband. 8 After all, man doesn't come from woman, but woman from man.<sup>d</sup> 9 And also, man wasn't created because of woman, but woman because of man. 10 That's why a woman ought to have an authority on her head—because of the angels.<sup>e</sup> 11 Still, in the Lord, woman isn't independent<sup>f</sup> from man, nor is man independent from woman. 12 After all, just as woman comes from man, so man also comes through woman.<sup>g</sup> And they all come from God. 13 Decide for yourselves:<sup>h</sup> is it appropriate for a woman to pray to God with her head uncovered? 14 Doesn't nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair it's a disgrace to him? 15 But if a woman has long hair, it's her glory. Because her hair is given to her as<sup>i</sup> a covering. 16 But if somebody <sup>a</sup> This sentence is actually 11:1, but it wraps up the previous section rather than beginning the current section. Chapters were not a part of the New Testament until the 13th century, and verses were first added in the 16th century.

<sup>c</sup> I suspect Paul is quoting a proverb that comes out of an ancient patriarchal ideal of publicly harassing prostitutes. Prostitutes would signal their "availability" to potential clients by not wearing a veil in public, or in some other way not covering themselves up to the usual degree. In the patriarchal setting, an unmarried woman veiled herself out of "respect for her father's and her brothers' honor"—since it was considered their responsibility to protect her virginity until she was married. The veil, in other words, signaled the fact that she was sexually unavailable. If a man had any interest in her, he had to approach her father and brothers. In a similar way, a married woman is also veiled—this signals her unavailability because she is exclusively partnered with her husband. Thus, in the culture Paul was familiar with, any woman who wasn't veiled was disgracing herself by appearing like an immoral person.

<sup>e</sup> I think Paul worries that if women leave the patriarchal "protection" system, with its symbols of subjection to masculine authority, angels (who set it up) will either (1) be offended or (2) take an improper interest in them (see Gen. 6:1-2).

<sup>f</sup> Lit. "apart," in this and the following instance.

<sup>h</sup> I think he means, discuss it as a community and make a determination, rather than, everyone make their own individual decision.

seems to like arguing about this,<sup>a</sup> we don't have a custom like that,<sup>b</sup> and neither do the communities of God.

The Lord's Supper

<sup>17</sup>Now, in the instructions that I'm about to give, I won't commend you. Because, far from being better off, you're actually worse off by meeting together. <sup>18</sup>To start with, when you get together I hear that there are divisions between you. And I believe it to a certain extent. <sup>19</sup>After all, there have to be opposing groups<sup>c</sup> among you, so that it'll become clear which of you pass the test. <sup>20</sup>Anyway,<sup>d</sup> when you all get together, it's obviously not to eat the Lord's supper! <sup>21</sup>Because each person is taking more than their share of the meal, and one person is hungry and another person is drunk. <sup>22</sup>I mean, don't you have things to eat and drink at home? Or are you going to despise the community of God, and make people who are in need feel ashamed?<sup>e</sup> What can I say to you? Can<sup>f</sup> I commend you? No, I can't commend you for this.

<sup>23</sup>After all, it was the Lord who gave me the tradition that I passed on to you:

On the night he was betrayed, the Lord Jesus took a loaf of bread.

<sup>24</sup>And after he had given thanks, he broke it, and said,

"This is my body, which is for you. Do this to remember me."

<sup>25</sup>In the same way, he also took the cup after the meal. He said,

"This cup is the new covenant through my blood.

Do this every time you drink this cup of wine, to remember me."<sup>g</sup>

<sup>26</sup>In other words,<sup>h</sup> every time you all eat the bread and drink the cup of wine, you announce the Lord's death, until he comes. <sup>27</sup>So if someone eats the bread or drinks the cup of wine in a way that's unworthy, they're sinning against<sup>i</sup> the body and blood of the Lord. <sup>28</sup>So people should be examining themselves—and that's the way they should be eating from the bread and drinking from the cup.<sup>j</sup> <sup>29</sup>Because people are eating and drinking judgment on themselves when they eat and drink without recognizing the Body. <sup>30</sup>That's why lots of you are weak and sick, and certain ones have died. <sup>31</sup>But if we had been sorting ourselves out, we wouldn't have come under judgment. <sup>32</sup>But when we're judged by the Lord, we're

<sup>a</sup> Or, following Lattimore: "But if I seem to be arbitrary."

<sup>b</sup> I.e. the custom of women praying or prophesying in the community with heads uncovered, which appears to have been taking hold at Corinth.

<sup>e</sup> Lit. "Or do you (pl.) despise the community of God and shame the needy?" I think I've captured Paul's intent.

<sup>g</sup> I think he's saying, from now on, when you celebrate the Passover meal, with its bread and wine, let it be a memorial of me dying for you. See 1 Cor. 5:7-8, and also Mt. 26:26-29; Mk 14:22-25; Lk. 22:14-20.

<sup>h</sup> Lit. "For."

<sup>j</sup> Lit. "But let a person self-examine, and thus let them eat from the bread and drink from the cup."

being disciplined so that we won't be condemned along with the world. <sup>33</sup>So, my brothers and sisters, when you get together to eat, wait for each other. <sup>34</sup>If somebody's hungry, they should eat at home, so that you don't get together and end up getting judged. And all the rest I'll lay out when I come.

Gifts from the Holy Spirit?

12 You also asked me about the spiritual gifts.<sup>a</sup> Brothers and sisters, I don't want you to be ignorant about this. <sup>2</sup>You know how, back when you were Gentiles, you always used to get led astray to deaf and dumb idols.<sup>b</sup> <sup>3</sup>So I'm letting you know that no one speaking through<sup>c</sup> the Spirit of God says, "A curse on Jesus!" And no one can say, "Jesus is Lord," except through<sup>d</sup> the Holy Spirit.

⁴Now, there are various kinds of gifts,
but the same Spirit,
⁵And various kinds of service,
but the same Lord,
⁶And various kinds of activities,<sup>e</sup>
but the same God, who activates all of them in everyone.

⁷But each person gets the outward sign of the Spirit that will be the most beneficial.<sup>f</sup> <sup>8</sup>For example: through the Spirit, a person is given wisdom about something. Another person is given knowledge about something, through the same Spirit. <sup>9</sup>Somebody else is given faith by the same Spirit; another is given gifts of healings by the one Spirit. <sup>10</sup>Someone else again is given displays of power,<sup>g</sup> another person prophecy, somebody else abilities to discern spirits, another person various inspired languages, and another person the interpretation of inspired languages. <sup>11</sup>But one and the same Spirit activates all these things, giving gifts out to each individual person just as the Spirit pleases.<sup>h</sup>

We are All One Body—the Body of Christ

ⁱ²After all, we have one body<sup>i</sup> and it has many parts, and the many parts form<sup>j</sup> one body. And it's the same way with Christ. <sup>13</sup>Because we've all been baptized into one body by one Spirit—whether we were Jews or non-Jews,<sup>k</sup> slaves or free. And <sup>a</sup> More literally, "spiritisms," i.e. manifestations of spiritual power and presence. The Corinthians seem to have been confused because some manifestations of "spirit" in their gatherings were inconsistent with the character of Christ and the Holy Spirit. Paul explains what he thinks is going on.

<sup>b</sup> Lit. "to the speechless idols."

<sup>c</sup> Or "by" or "in."

<sup>f</sup> Lit. "But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to each person for the good."

<sup>g</sup> Lit. "workings of powers," or "doing miracles."

we've all been given one Spirit to drink. <sup>14</sup>And our body, after all, isn't one part, but many! <sup>15</sup>Suppose the foot says, "Because I'm not a hand, I don't belong to the body." Does that make it not belong to the body? <sup>16</sup>Or<sup>a</sup> suppose the ear says, "Because I'm not an eye, I don't belong to the body." Does that make it not belong to the body? <sup>17</sup>If the whole body were an eye, where would the sense of hearing be? If the whole body were about hearing, then where would the sense of smell be? <sup>18</sup>But in fact, God has placed each one of the parts of the body just where God wanted it to be. <sup>19</sup>But if all the parts were one kind, what would become of the body?<sup>b</sup> <sup>20</sup>But the fact is, there are many parts, but one body, <sup>21</sup>and the eye can't say to the hand, "I don't need you!" And the head can't say to the feet, "I don't need you!" <sup>22</sup>No—in fact, the body parts that seem to be the weaker ones are by far the most indispensable! <sup>23</sup>And that goes for the parts of the body that we see as less respectable. We give those parts extra respect by clothing them, and our unpresentable parts become the most presentable.<sup>c</sup> <sup>24</sup>But our presentable parts don't need any extra attention.<sup>d</sup>

But God has knit the body together in a way that gives the weaker part the most respect. <sup>25</sup>That's so that there won't be any division within the body, but just the opposite: all the parts will have the same care for one another. <sup>26</sup>And if one part suffers, all the parts suffer along with it. If one part gets glory, all the parts celebrate with it. <sup>27</sup>You're the body of Christ, and you're all individual parts of it.

<sup>28</sup>And God appoints people in the community: first apostles, second prophets, third teachers. Then displays of power, gifts of healings, acts of service, gifts of management,<sup>e</sup> various inspired languages. <sup>29</sup>Surely you're not all apostles, are you? You're not all prophets, or teachers, or miracle workers,<sup>f</sup> are you? <sup>30</sup>Does everyone have gifts of healings? Do you all speak inspired languages? Can<sup>g</sup> everyone interpret them? Of course not. <sup>31</sup>But keep on trying<sup>h</sup> for the greater gifts. And now I'm going to show you the best way of all!

Love—the Greatest Value of All

13 Suppose I can speak human languages, and even angelic languages—but I don't have love. I've become a ringing gong or a crashing cymbal. <sup>2</sup>And suppose I have the gift of prophecy, and I know all the secrets there are, and have all the knowledge there is, and suppose I even have all the faith in the world, so

<sup>d</sup> For example, hands and feet don't need to be covered with clothing. It's the reproductive organs—which are not considered proper to display in public—that are the most indispensable. (Without them the species would die.)

<sup>e</sup> Lit. "administrations" or "managements."

that I can move mountains from one place to another. If I don't have love, I'm nothing. And suppose I give away all my possessions, and I even give up my body so that I can brag about it. If I don't have love, I haven't gotten anything out of it.

Love is patient; love is kind.
 It isn't jealous, it doesn't brag.
 It isn't arrogant or disruptive;
 It doesn't insist on its own way.
 It isn't easily provoked;
 It doesn't keep a tab of wrongs.<sup>a</sup>
 It doesn't gloat<sup>b</sup> over injustice, but joins in celebrating with the truth.
 It protects all things,
 It believes in all things,
 It hopes for all things,
 It holds true to all things.
 Love never fails.

If there are prophecies, they'll come to an end. If there are languages, they'll stop. If there's knowledge, it will come to an end. After all, we can know about some parts and we can prophesy<sup>c</sup> about some parts, but when the whole<sup>d</sup> thing comes, everything partial will come to an end.

When I was a child, I talked like a child, I thought like a child, and I reasoned like a child. Now that I've become an adult,<sup>e</sup> I've finished with the things of my childhood.

After all, we are now seeing things dimly through a mirror. But then it'll be face to face! Now I know about some parts, but then I'll fully understand—just as I've been fully understood.

So<sup>f</sup> now there are these three things that last: faith, hope, and love. And the greatest of the three<sup>g</sup> is love.

Prophesying and Speaking in Inspired Languages in Meetings

14 Strive for love as you aspire to spiritual gifts—but especially aspire to the gift of prophecy.<sup>h</sup> Because the person who speaks in an inspired language isn't speaking to other people, but to God. After all, no one understands it: they're saying secret things through the Spirit. But the person who prophesies speaks

<sup>h</sup> Lit. "Vigorously pursue love, and/but desire the spiritual [gifts], and/but more that you would prophesy."

for people's edification, encouragement, and comfort. <sup>4</sup>People who speak in an inspired language build themselves up,<sup>a</sup> whereas a person who prophesies builds up the community. <sup>5</sup>And I want you all to speak in inspired languages, but even more I want you to prophesy. And the person who prophesies is of greater value to the community than the person who speaks in inspired languages—that is, unless the person interprets it, so that the community can be built up.<sup>b</sup>

<sup>6</sup>But now, brothers and sisters, if I come to you speaking in inspired languages, what good am I going to do you? None, unless I'm going to tell you<sup>c</sup> some revelation or knowledge or prophecy or teaching. <sup>7</sup>It's the same way with musical instruments,<sup>d</sup> like flutes or harps. If the instrument doesn't make a distinction between the notes, how will the tune being played on the flute or the harp be recognized? <sup>8</sup>And again, suppose the trumpet gives out an unclear call. Who's going to get ready for battle? <sup>9</sup>It's the same with you. If you don't offer a recognizable message with your tongue, how is anybody going to know what's being said?<sup>e</sup> Won't you just be talking into the air?

<sup>10</sup>I suppose there's any number of different languages<sup>f</sup> in the world—and none of them is without meaning. <sup>11</sup>But<sup>g</sup> if I don't know the meaning of the language, I'm going to be a gibberish speaker<sup>h</sup> to the one who's talking, and they're going to be a gibberish speaker to me. <sup>12</sup>It's the same with you. Since you're excited about "spirits,"<sup>i</sup> keep trying to get better at building up the community.<sup>j</sup> <sup>13</sup>So a person who speaks in an inspired language should pray that they'll be able to interpret it. <sup>14</sup>Because if I'm praying in an inspired language, my spirit is praying, but my mind isn't contributing anything.<sup>k</sup> <sup>15</sup>So what's the solution? I'm going to pray with my spirit, and I'm going to pray with my mind too. I'm going to sing praise with my spirit, and I'm going to sing praise with my mind too. <sup>16</sup>After all, if you bless with your spirit, think of the person who's in the position of a newcomer. How are they going to say "Amen" to your prayer of thanks, since they don't know what you're saying? <sup>17</sup>You're giving thanks just fine, but the other person isn't being built up. <sup>18</sup>I thank God that I speak in inspired languages more than all of

<sup>c</sup> Lit. "unless I should speak to you with."

<sup>e</sup> Lit. "Similarly also yourselves: if you don't give an easily-interpreted message with the tongue, how will it be known what is being said?"

<sup>g</sup> Lit. "So," or "Therefore." But the word is more flexible in Greek than in English.

<sup>i</sup> "Spirits" is an odd way of talking about spiritual gifts. Some of the Corinthians appear to have had the idea that each special gifting was indicative of the presence of a "spirit." Paul seems uncomfortable with this terminology. He insists that there is only one Spirit who gives the gifts (see 1 Cor. 12).

<sup>j</sup> Lit. "be seeking that you will overflow towards the edification of the community."

you. <sup>19</sup>But in the community meeting, I'd rather say five words with my mind, so that I can teach others too, than ten thousand words in an inspired language.

<sup>20</sup>Brothers and sisters, don't be childish<sup>a</sup> in your thinking. Instead, "Lose your naiveté, not your innocence."<sup>b</sup> <sup>21</sup>It's written in the Law:

In foreign languages
And through the lips of foreigners
I will speak to this people,
And even so they won't listen to me,
says the Lord.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>22</sup>So inspired languages aren't supposed to be a sign from God for the believers, but for the unbelievers. And prophecy isn't for the unbelievers but for the believers. <sup>23</sup>So, say the whole community gets together, and everybody speaks in inspired languages. And now, in come some newcomers or unbelievers. Won't they think you're crazy?<sup>d</sup> <sup>24</sup>But if you all prophesy, and an unbeliever or a newcomer comes in, they'll be challenged<sup>e</sup> by all of you. <sup>25</sup>The secrets of their hearts will be revealed, and so they'll fall on their faces and worship God. They'll say, "God is really with you!"<sup>f</sup>

<sup>26</sup>So what's the result, brothers and sisters? Whenever you get together, each person has a song of praise, a teaching, a revelation, an inspired language, or an interpretation. Everything should be edifying.<sup>g</sup> <sup>27</sup>If someone speaks in an inspired language, it should be two, or at the most three, and one at a time. And somebody should interpret. <sup>28</sup>But suppose there isn't a person to interpret. They should be quiet in the community meeting, and speak to themselves and God.<sup>h</sup> <sup>29</sup>And two or three prophets should speak, and let the others weigh up what they say.<sup>i</sup> <sup>30</sup>And if something gets revealed to somebody else who's sitting down, the first person should be quiet. <sup>31</sup>Because you can all take turns prophesying. That way you can all learn and be encouraged. <sup>32</sup>Also, "the spirits of the prophets are under the prophets' own control."<sup>j</sup> <sup>33</sup>After all, God is not the God of confusion, but of peace.

<sup>b</sup> Lit. "be children in what's bad, but adults in thinking." It's a pithy proverb in Greek, which means, try to reach the wisdom of adulthood without firsthand experience in doing wrong.

<sup>d</sup> Lit. "Won't they say that you're raving?" But in Greek "say" often means "think."

<sup>h</sup> This sentence was recast as plural for gender inclusivity.

<sup>j</sup> Paul uses a maxim to assert that Holy Spirit-inspired prophets remain conscious and retain their agency. Prophecy isn't ecstatic spirit possession.

The Role of Women (see also 1 Cor. 11:2-16)

As in all the communities of the holy ones, <sup>34</sup>the women should be quiet in the community meetings. Because they're not allowed to speak. Instead, they should be obedient to their husbands, just as the Law says. <sup>35</sup>And if they want to learn something, they should ask their own husbands at home. After all, it's shameful for a woman to speak in the community meeting. <sup>36</sup>Or did the word of God go out from you? Or did it only come to you? <sup>37</sup>If someone thinks they're a prophet or spiritually gifted, they should recognize that the things I'm writing to you are the Lord's command. <sup>38</sup>But if somebody doesn't know that, they're somebody unknown themselves.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>39</sup>In conclusion, brothers and sisters, try to prophesy, and don't stop people from speaking in inspired languages. <sup>40</sup>But everything should be done in a courteous and orderly way.

The Resurrection of Jesus Christ

15 Now, brothers and sisters, I want to remind you<sup>b</sup> of the good news that I preached to you, and that you accepted. It is the good news in which you stand, <sup>2</sup>and by which you're being saved, this very message that I preached to you—if you hold on to it. Otherwise,<sup>c</sup> you believed it for nothing. <sup>3</sup>Because I handed over to you, right at the beginning,<sup>d</sup> what I received:

that Christ died for our sins in line with the scriptures, <sup>4</sup>that he was buried, and that he rose<sup>e</sup> on the third day in line with the scriptures,
<sup>5</sup>and that he was seen by<sup>f</sup> Cephas,<sup>g</sup> then by the twelve,
<sup>6</sup>and then by more than five hundred brothers and sisters all at once.

Of those, most are still around today, but some have passed away.<sup>h</sup> <sup>7</sup>Then he was seen by James, then by all the apostles. <sup>8</sup>And last of all, almost in an emergency birth,<sup>i</sup> he was seen by me too. <sup>9</sup>After all, I'm the least of the apostles. I'm not worthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the community of God. <sup>10</sup>But it's by God's grace that I am what I am. And God's grace in me hasn't turned out to be empty! No, I've worked harder than all of them. But it's definitely not me—

<sup>a</sup> Some mss: "And if someone doesn't know that, let them not know it."

<sup>g</sup> Pm. seef-us. Paul is referring to the senior apostle Peter, whose English name comes from the Greek nickname Petros, "Rock." Cephas comes from Peter's Aramaic nickname Keyfa', which also means "rock."

<sup>h</sup> Lit. "have fallen asleep," a euphemism for "have died."

<sup>i</sup> Or "a miscarriage." The idea is that Paul was born into the role of apostle and into the family of witnesses to Christ's resurrection in a traumatic birth.

it's the grace of God that's with me. <sup>11</sup>So whether it was me or them, that's how we preached, and that's how you believed.

Our Future Resurrection—and the Resurrection of All Humanity

<sup>12</sup>But if Christ is being preached as raised from among the dead, how is it that some of you say that there's no resurrection of the dead? <sup>13</sup>But if there is no resurrection of the dead, then Christ isn't raised either. <sup>14</sup>And if Christ isn't raised, then our preaching is empty, and your faith is empty! <sup>15</sup>And we are also shown up to be<sup>a</sup> false witnesses against God! Because we've testified about God that he raised Christ. And God didn't raise Christ if the dead aren't raised. <sup>16</sup>After all, if the dead aren't raised, Christ isn't raised either. <sup>17</sup>And if Christ isn't raised, your faith is useless—you're all still in your sins. <sup>18</sup>And also, people who've passed away<sup>b</sup> in Christ are lost. <sup>19</sup>If we've only been hoping in Christ in this life, we're about the most pitiful people in all of humanity.

<sup>20</sup>But the fact is, Christ has risen from among the dead. He's the first harvest of those who've passed away.<sup>c</sup> <sup>21</sup>After all, since death came through a human being, resurrection of the dead also came through a human being. <sup>22</sup>Because just as in Adam everyone dies, so in Christ everyone will be brought to life—<sup>23</sup>but each in their own proper order:<sup>d</sup> Christ the first harvest, then those who belong to him, at his coming, <sup>24</sup>then the end. That's when he hands the kingdom over to God the Father.<sup>e</sup> It's when he does away with all rule and authority and power. <sup>25</sup>Because he has to rule as king until he completely subdues all his enemies.<sup>f</sup> <sup>26</sup>The last enemy he'll overthrow is death, <sup>27</sup>because

God has subjected everything under his feet.<sup>g</sup>

And when it says that “everything's been subjected,” it obviously doesn't include the One who subjected everything to him. <sup>28</sup>So, when everything's subject to him, then the Son himself will be subjected to the One who subjected everything to him. That way God will be everything, in everyone.<sup>h</sup>

<sup>29</sup>Otherwise, what are they going to be doing when they're baptized on behalf of the dead? If the dead aren't raised at all, why are people being baptized for them? <sup>30</sup>And why are we in danger all the time?<sup>i</sup> <sup>31</sup>I die every day! And you're my proof

<sup>c</sup> Paul's using a metaphor from Jewish worship. A gift was to be given to God from the best of the early summer harvest. That gift would “redeem” the rest of the crop and guarantee God's blessing on it.

<sup>d</sup> Paul is using the analogy of a parade. The word “order” implies that each person has their proper place in the formation.

<sup>f</sup> Lit. “until he puts all his enemies under his feet.” See Ps. 8:6.

for that claim, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord.<sup>a</sup> <sup>32</sup>If it was just for human reasons that I've fought wild animals in Ephesus,<sup>b</sup> what have I gained? If the dead aren't raised,

Let's eat and drink—after all, we're going to die tomorrow!<sup>c</sup>

<sup>33</sup>Don't be fooled: "Bad relationship choices ruin good morals."<sup>d</sup> <sup>34</sup>You need to really sober up and stop sinning, because some of you don't know God.<sup>e</sup> I say this to your shame.

Our Resurrection Bodies—Will They be the Same, or Different?

<sup>35</sup>However, somebody is going to say, "How are the dead raised? And what kind of body do they have?" <sup>36</sup>What ignorance!<sup>f</sup> The seed you plant isn't brought to life unless it dies. <sup>37</sup>And what you plant isn't the body that is going to be, but just a bare seed—such as wheat, maybe, or some other grain. <sup>38</sup>And God gives it a body just as he wishes. In other words, God gives each seed its own body. <sup>39</sup>Bodies aren't all the same.<sup>g</sup> There's one flesh for human beings, another for wild animals, another for birds, and another for fish. <sup>40</sup>And there are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies—but the glory of the heavenly bodies is different from that of the earthly ones. <sup>41</sup>The sun has one glory, the moon has another, and the stars have another. And of course,<sup>h</sup> one star differs in glory from another.

<sup>42</sup>It's the same with the resurrection of the dead. The body is planted in a process of breaking down; it's raised invulnerable to breaking down.<sup>i</sup> <sup>43</sup>It's planted in dishonor; it's raised in glory. It's planted in weakness; it's raised in power. <sup>44</sup>It's planted a soul-based body; it's raised a Spirit-based body.<sup>j</sup> If there's a soul-based body, there's also a Spirit-based body. <sup>45</sup>Just like the scripture says,<sup>k</sup>

The first human being, Adam, became a living soul.<sup>l</sup>

<sup>a</sup> Lit. "I swear by yourselves as the boast, brothers, that I have in Christ Jesus our Lord!" He's using them "to swear by," because they know firsthand the great risks he took to bring them the good news (see Acts 18:1-17). The mss disagree as to whether the word "brothers" belongs, but the meaning is unaffected either way.

<sup>b</sup> See Acts 19:21-41; 1 Cor. 16:8. He appears to be writing from Ephesus.

<sup>f</sup> Lit. "Ignoramus, the seed..." Contemporary English-speaking culture has a rule against such "name calling," but Paul's culture didn't.

<sup>g</sup> Lit. "Not all flesh is the same flesh."

<sup>i</sup> Lit. "It's planted in perishability, raised in imperishability," referring to the body.

<sup>j</sup> More literally: "It's planted a soulish body; it's raised a spiritual body." Paul is not saying—as our use of such words might imply—that the resurrection body is a non-physical body. To him, "soulish" means based on the familiar principles of nature, and "spiritual" means based on or powered by the Holy Spirit, not "immaterial."

But the last Adam became an enlivening Spirit. <sup>46</sup>But the Spirit-based human being isn't first, but rather the soul-based one. Afterwards comes the Spirit-based one. <sup>47</sup>The first human being comes from the soil, and is made of earth. The second human being comes from heaven. <sup>48</sup>Whatever the original earth-based human being is like, that's what we<sup>a</sup> earth-based human beings are like, too. And whatever the heavenly one is like, that's what the heavenly ones are going to be like, too. <sup>49</sup>And just as we've borne the stamp of what's earthly, we're going to bear the stamp of what's heavenly, too.

<sup>50</sup>And I'll say this, brothers and sisters: flesh and blood can't inherit God's Reign. And what breaks down isn't going to inherit invulnerability to breaking down. <sup>51</sup>Look, I'm going to tell you a secret. We're not all going to pass away. But we'll all be transformed <sup>52</sup>in an instant—in the blink of an eye, at the last trumpet.<sup>b</sup> Because the trumpet is going to blow—and the dead are going to be raised, invulnerable to breaking down. And we're going to be transformed. <sup>53</sup>Because this body, which is vulnerable to breaking down, is going to be clothed with invulnerability to breaking down. And this mortal body of ours is going to be clothed with immortality. <sup>54</sup>And when this mortal body of ours is clothed with immortality, then the words of scripture<sup>c</sup> will come true:

Death is swallowed in victory!<sup>d</sup>

<sup>55</sup>Death, where is your victory?

Death, where's your stinger?<sup>e</sup>

<sup>56</sup>Death's stinger is sin, and sin's power is the Law. <sup>57</sup>So thanks to God, who is giving us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>58</sup>In conclusion, my brothers and sisters, be strong, be impossible to move. Always be overflowing in the Lord's work, because you know your hard work in the Lord isn't for nothing.<sup>f</sup>

Instructions about a Collection for Famine Relief in the Land of Israel

16 Now, about the collection for the holy ones:<sup>g</sup> I want you to do the same thing I told the communities in Galatia. <sup>2</sup>On the first day of each week, each of you should put aside whatever amount you can afford. That way, when I come, there won't have to be a number of collections. <sup>3</sup>Then, when I arrive, I'll send off

<sup>c</sup> Lit. "then the word that is written."

<sup>d</sup> Isa. 25:8.

<sup>g</sup> This was a huge operation in response to a famine. See Acts 11:27-30; Rom. 15:25-26; 2 Cor. 8-9; Gal. 2:10.

the people you've recommended with letters,<sup>a</sup> and they'll bring your gift to Jerusalem. «And if it seems<sup>b</sup> worthwhile for me to go too, they can go with me.

«Now, I'm going to come to you when I get through Macedonia<sup>c</sup>—because I'm coming through Macedonia. «And I might stay with you a while, or even stay the winter. That way, you can send me on my way to wherever I go next. »After all, I don't just want to see you in passing this time. I'm hoping to spend some real time with you, if the Lord lets me. «But I'm going to be staying in Ephesus until Pentecost. «Because a big and effective door has opened up for me, and there are a lot of opponents.

«Now, if Timothy comes, make him feel at ease<sup>d</sup> while he's with you. After all, he's doing the Lord's work just like I am—«so no one should look down on him.<sup>e</sup> Send him along in peace so that he can come to me. Because I'm looking forward to seeing him, and so are the brothers and sisters here.

«Now as for my brother Apollos,<sup>f</sup> I had strongly encouraged him to come to you with the other brothers.<sup>g</sup> And he really didn't want to come now,<sup>h</sup> but he'll come when there's a good opportunity.

Final Messages and Greetings

«Keep watch, stand firm in your faith. Be tough, be strong. «Let everything you do be done in love.<sup>i</sup>

«Now, I want to ask you a favor, brothers and sisters. You know about Stephanas's<sup>j</sup> family—how they're the first harvest for Christ in Achaia,<sup>k</sup> and how they've devoted themselves to serving the holy ones. «I want you to be of service to<sup>l</sup> people like them—and to everyone who does the same hard work with them. «I'm so happy that Stephanas and Fortunatus<sup>m</sup> and Achaicus<sup>n</sup> have come! They've <sup>a</sup> It's not clear whether these letters are previous letters of recommendation from the Corinthians to Paul, or whether Paul is talking about sending people to Jerusalem with letters of introduction.

<sup>d</sup> Or "see that he has nothing to fear."

<sup>g</sup> Below, we'll see evidence that Paul is sending three men with this letter: Stephanas, Fortunatus and Achaicus, who have visited Paul from Corinth. I think they're the "other brothers."

<sup>h</sup> Or "But it definitely wasn't God's will for him to come now."

<sup>i</sup> More literally: "Let all your interactions happen in love."

<sup>l</sup> Or "subject yourselves to the authority of."

made up for the fact that I miss all of you,<sup>a</sup> <sup>18</sup>because they've refreshed my spirit as well as yours. So really acknowledge people like them.

<sup>19</sup>The communities here in Asia<sup>b</sup> say hello. Prisca and Aquila send you all a big hello in the Lord, along with the community that meets in their house. <sup>20</sup>All the brothers and sisters here say hello. Say hello to each other and give each other a holy kiss.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>d</sup> Sosthenes has actually put pen to paper for most of the letter, as Paul has dictated (1 Cor. 1:1).

<sup>e</sup> Or "Our Lord, come!" Paul's writes this in his mother tongue, Aramaic: marana tha.

<sup>f</sup> Lit. "My love be with you all."
