

THE SPOKEN ENGLISH NEW TESTAMENT

A New Translation from the Greek

By J. Webb Mealy

First Edition 2022

Copyright © 2022 James Webb Mealy under a Creative Commons Attribution Only copyright license.

This means that you may freely use, copy, distribute, or adapt the text of this work, even for commercial purposes, with the following restrictions: (1) direct use of the entire text without changes must be entitled “The Spoken English New Testament, First Edition,” (2) direct use of portions of the text without changes must be described as “From The Spoken English New Testament, First Edition,” and (3) adaptations must contain, on the cover and the publication information page, “Adapted from The Spoken English New Testament, First Edition.” (4) All adaptations of the text of this work carry with them a Creative Commons Attribution Only license, except small excerpts for review purposes, which are permitted outside this license by the Fair Use copyright practice. (5) Any illustrations in this work retain their original Copyright, Creative Commons, Public Domain and/or “Used with Permission” status.

For more information on permissions for use, contact the translator by email at webb@sentpress.com.

Book design and publication assistance by Dennis Rivers.

Cover graphic copyright by Martinus Sumbaji. Used with permission via 123rf.com, with deep gratitude.

Published by Head, Heart & Hands Books
an imprint of Human Development Books
P. O. Box 688 – Eugene, OR 97440 in cooperation with Lulu.com.

Printed copies available from Lulu.com,
PDFs from <http://hudevbooks.com>.

Jesus answered...

We have to keep doing the work of the One who sent me
while it's still light out.

Night is coming, when nobody can work.

As long as I'm in the world, I'm the world's light.

When he said that, he spat on the ground, and made mud from the spit.

Then he smeared it on the blind man's eyes and said to him,

Go wash in the Pool of Siloam.

(Siloam means "Sent.")

So he went off and washed, and he left seeing.